

7 TIPS TO PACK LIKE A PRO

- Pack one room at a time.
- Any items that you don't need for your daily living routine should be packed first.
- Important items (such as photographs, wills, jewelry, home videos, and any other important documents) should be packed separately so that you can personally carry them with you on moving day.
- Fragile items should be packed loosely with plenty of wrapping. The boxes must be clearly labeled "FRAGILE". Stack them towards the top of your piles.
- Non-breakable items should be packed snugly in smaller boxes. You will want to make sure that they are not too heavy, and that they are at a weight you feel comfortable carrying. Don't forget to pack your books flat, alternating the bindings so they will stack evenly.
- When possible, small appliances and electronic equipment should be packed in the boxes they came in, and then taped securely.
- In order to avoid unnecessary ironing later on, make sure you have enough wardrobe boxes.
